Uniting talented individuals, the latest technologies and an environment that breeds creativity is the formula for Decorative Panels design success.

The group design team has always been focused on designing and selecting products that can adapt to the varied needs of today's consumers. Keeping an eye on worldwide trends ensures that Decorative Panels products, from surface coverings to furniture ranges, meet the quality and style demanded by their customers for the retail market.

The design team is proud to have the knowledge and understanding to make things not only pleasing to the eye but to provide practical solutions to meet customer requirements.

Generating fresh and exciting product design, specifying what processes are required, suggesting easier solutions for furniture assembly or recommending different substrates or surface finishes – these are all part of the design department service offering.

The Decorative Panels design department offers a complete and comprehensive service for the wide range of markets the group supplies.

From initial concept to fully finished sampling produced in our own prototype development facility the options are endless from dp-design.
